75 stats that prove the critical importance of live chat

Live chat software is no longer negotiable. It's not a luxury, it's not a nice-to-have, and it's not an optional but ultimately inessential web feature. In today's digital landscape, live chat is a necessity for any business website.

But hey – don't just take our word for it. Here's 75 stats, taken from multiple studies, multiple countries and multiple consumer groups, that prove the critical importance of live chat.

We'll start with sales. Want your website to make you more money? You'll be needing live chat for that...
